A PERSONAL LETTER TO EACH OF YOU

We wonder if any interest, religion excepted, can mould friendship as quickly and as universally as flowers, particularly dahlias? And while wondering, another question always suggests itself. Why are flower growers in general such a decent lot of folks? Probably you too, have pondered these questions. The answer to both evidently is the same. Flowers are wholesome and morally constructive. In general they appeal to the finer fiber in mankind whether he be Doctor, Street Sweeper or Artist, bringing all together on a common premise, forgetting superficial marks of distinction placed upon each by society.

Naturally those growing dahlias commercially should conduct their business in an exemplary manner. They should always strive to render that type of service rightfully expected in any profession or business of the highest calling.

In this spirit our catalog has been compiled. Descriptions and habits of growth of dahlias are given as they appeared to us. If originators find our ratings of their introductions severe, please remember, our ratings are based on behavior in our gardens—the fairest test at our command.

It always gives us much pleasure to have our customers pay us a visit when passing through our community. Please do not disappoint us.

We extend to you heartiest wishes for a pleasant and successful season.

Sincerely,

MR. AND MRS. F. W. GALLOWAY

We are located near the south end of Washington, 3½ miles south of Maysville, Ky., on U. S. Highway 68. Watch for our display garden and sign on east side of the Highway.

INSTRUCTIONS

Please read all preliminary matter carefully. By so doing you may find your questions answered before you ask them.

CULTURAL NOTES

Instructions for the growing and care of various types of dahlia stock will be included with each order or will be mailed free if your request is accompanied by a 3c postage stamp.

RATINGS AND SYMBOLS

To eliminate a multiplicity of words and give you more accurate descriptions of our offerings, we have adhered to the system used last season. For example:

JANE COWL, ID (cge-h)—A.

Capital letters immediately following the variety name indicate type of bloom; FD, Formal Decorative; ID, Informal Decorative; SC, Semi Cactus; StrC, Straight Cactus; IncC, Incurved Cactus.

In describing the type of miniatures, these letters are prefixed "M."

The first group of small letters in parenthesis following type symbols indicate purposes to which the bloom is adaptable:

c—Cut flower; g—Garden flower; e—Exhibition flower.

The group of small letters following the dash and completing the parenthesis indicate the height of plant; l, low; m, medium; h, high.

Intermediate heights are indicated by a combination of these symbols.

The capital A, B, C or D, following the parenthesis is the rating.

In the example above, Jane Cowl is an ID, Informal Decorative.

It is a (cge-h) cut flower, garden and exhibition flower and the plant grows high.

It is rated A, the highest given to but very few dahlias.

For our opinion of a dahlia with which you are not familiar, find a variety which you know, having the same rating as the dahlia in question and you immediately have our estimate of its comparative merit.

The capital letters, R. C. immediately following plant price, mean "Rooted Cuttings."

ROOTED CUTTINGS

Judging by the perennial disputes relative to the merit of green plants and rooted cuttings, we are forced to conclude that comparatively few people really understand just what a rooted cutting actually is. Apparently there is an inclination to leave the dahlia growing public in the dark about this matter, we fear, for the sole purpose of encouraging the purchase of higher priced stock which automatically brings more profits to the producer.

Commercial growers who are ethical and reliable, follow the same general practice in producing plants. The plant is first a green cutting without roots. In the process of time, with the proper handling, Nature provides roots at the base of the cutting. It is then a "Rooted Cutting." After growing for from 25 to 40 days it becomes what is known to you as a plant. Thus you will see a plant and a Rooted Cutting are identical except as to extent of development.

If you understand what you are about, Rooted Cuttings are highly satisfactory. If you are inexperienced and ill equipped, use plants or roots instead. If you are possessed of an experimental nature, you will find it highly interesting and perhaps very profitable to try a few Rooted Cuttings.

In the following pages Rooted Cuttings are designated as "R. C."

NEW DAHLIAS FOR 1939

---

MRS. C. J. SOWTON, ID (cge-ml)—A. Australian. The color is described as pinkish cinnamon. We believe it is nearer coppery salmon. It was one of the largest in our gardens last season. In addition to this, it bore more fine large blooms per plant than any other exhibition variety on the place. The plants and foliage are exceptionally hardy. Stems are of medium length but of fine texture and flowers are held well above the foliage. Our stock is direct from the originator, tried in our own gardens and we recommend it. We are propagating this dahlia heavily, which places us in position to offer it at a very modest price.

Plants $2.50      R. C. $1.67

LOIS WALCHER, (1939 Walcher). This dahlia was the greatest sensation in the East the past season winning six American Home Achievement Medals in various shows. In addition to this it has been awarded Certificates of Merit by two A. D. S. Trial Gardens and is on practically every Honor Roll. It is said to have fine growing habits, good foliage and excellent stems. The color as described by the originator is deep amaranth to pansy purple with the outer one-third of the petals clear white with practically no variation.

Plants $3.50, 3 for $10.00      R. C. $2.25

MAYOR FRANK OTIS, ID (1939 Salbach)—This dahlia appears to be the most sensational giant released for several years. It won many coveted awards in the Western shows as well as winning Silver Medal at the A. D. S. Show in New York, having been shipped from California by air mail. The color is a rich golden honey yellow with traces of coppery shading.

Plants $8.00      R. C. $5.50

HILLCREST DAHL, ID (1939 Hillcrest)—A very large dahlia of good growing habits. Winner of Certificate of Merit at the East Lansing Trial Grounds. The color is Rhodamine purple bleaching to mallow purple.

Plants $2.50      R. C. $1.65

GLOW OF DAWN, Min.C. (1939 Geneva)—A beautiful two tone cactus of radiant pink with wax yellow center. Stems are long and stiff, holding the graceful bloom well above the foliage. A prolific bloomer.

Plants $1.00, 3 for $2.50      R. C. $ .75

LITTLE COLONEL, Min.SC. (1939 Limestone)—Our own little treasure. Winner of a Certificate of Merit at the A. D. S. Trial Grounds at Cincinnati with a score of 85. The bushes are medium high and very thrifty. Foliage clean and attractive. Blooms are from 3 to 3½ inches across, borne from 6 to 10 inches above the foliage on exceptionally long stiff stems. The color is soft pink with primrose yellow center. You are sure to have this dahlia eventually. Why not this season?

Roots $3.00      Plants $1.00      No cuttings

LITTLE NELL, Pom (1939 Limestone)—A lovely pom, the color being pink with orchid shadings deepening at the center. Size about 1½ inches. A profuse bloomer with fine stems. Plants are clean, vigorous grower. Roots only $2.00

THELMA CAIN, ID, (Cain-Parella) —This dahlia received three Certificates of Merit during 1937 and 1938. Its show record during 1938 attests the good judgment of the Trial Grounds Judges. The color is light coral red with shades of jasper at center, also on reverse of petals Plants $5.00

MARGIE PARELLA, FD (Maxwell-Parella)—This dahlia apparently fills a vacancy of long standing. There are good whites but a first class Formal Decorative in this color will be met with enthusiasm. For profusion of bloom it is in a class by itself. A basket of Margie Parella won the Blue Ribbon over Jersey's Beauty at the New York Show in 1938. Plants $3.34

CYNTHIA, MinSC (Wickersham)—A seedling of Baby Royal and reputed to be an improvement over its parent. Color, a combination of salmon, orange and gold, with yellow at base of petals. On Mr. J. W. Johnston's Honor Roll. Plants $1.00

NEWER LARGE FLOWERING VARIETIES

ADOLF MAYER, FD (ge-mh)—B. Very dark red, almost black. A real sensation. It is a clean strong grower. Plants $1.00 R. C. $ .67

“THE PRICELESS INGREDIENT”

Standing squarely behind each transaction with you is our profound desire to disseminate only the highest quality of stock, to get it to you in the best possible condition and to render thoroughly conscientious and courteous service to you. We hesitate to use testimonials but fully realizing that the witness of others is weightier than all we can say about ourselves we reproduce herewith extracts from a few of the many letters of this nature received each year from our customers.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

I am pleased to inform you that I have wonderful luck with rooted cuttings purchased last year and here is one for your books—“believe it or not—Ripley”: In digging my dahlias this year from the dahlia “Azura” there were sixteen good, strong healthy tubers. I believe that is going some from a rooted cutting. I can speak well too, of the balance of my dahlia plants.—BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

In the Spring I ordered of you, with some fear and trepidation, because it was an experiment, a dozen of your Rooted Cuttings.

Your shipment arrived promptly and in excellent condition, the cuttings immediately “took hold” and thrived and today I have fifteen sturdy, healthy plants that promise everything the amateur desires..... I feel it is my duty, in fact my obligation, to let you know how well pleased I am with your stock and your business methods.—

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Dear Sir:

I received my shipment of dahlia clumps and I am surely pleased with them; so much so I would like a complete list and your current catalog as I am interested in Poms and Miniatures.

Thanking you for the fine bulbs,—

SANTA CRUZ, CALIF.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

Yesterday the cuttings arrived and today your friendly letter. To say that I am very much pleased is putting it mildly. Everything was so much better than I anticipated that I hardly know how to express my appreciation. The plants were as fresh as though they had just been taken from the sand.—ARKANSAS CITY, KANSAS.

Dear Sir:

I was so well pleased with the dahlia clumps that I am sending you a second order herewith.....—RUTLAND, VERMONT.

Gentlemen:

The splendid dahlia roots came in fine condition. I can't find words to tell you how much I appreciate them and your fine manner in dealing with your customers. I feel I have received my money's worth. Thank you for the extra.—JACKSON, MISSOURI.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

Thanks for the fine lot of plants which arrived in perfect condition and were inspected and planted same day of arrival. They are the finest lot of plants I have ever seen and say, you are not only a good plant maker but an expert at packing. The inspector said the same thing. They were so fresh and healthy that they looked like they had just been packed.—SAN LEANDRO, CALIF.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

Please find root order on separate sheet with shipping instructions.

Let me have your Rooted Cutting list when ready. Will purchase some as your rooted cuttings are as good as Plants have received from other places.—....., OHIO.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

I received the Rooted Cuttings in fine shape and all have been duly installed in my hot bed and are growing like weeds.

I wish to express my appreciation for your more than generous filling of my order, not only in the quantity but also in the size and quality of the cuttings. I should have a very nice display of dahlias this Fall.

Your cuttings are indeed excellent. I should think you would do a very fine business with them.—KENOSHA, WISCONSIN.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed I am sending an order for dahlia bulbs to be shipped as soon as they are ready..... I was well pleased with the dahlias I received from you last year.—MAQUOKETA, IOWA.

Dear Sir:

In the Spring of '38 I ordered several plants from you. They have grown and bloomed wonderfully and am more than pleased with them. I also ordered a root of Mrs. Geo. le Boutillier and Cavalcade. You also sent a plant of each (for comparison). I found the plants bloomed better than the roots, the bushes were larger and the blooms are gorgeous..... Please send me your new catalog as I want some plants in the Spring.—
VINCENNES, INDIANA.

Dear Mr. Galloway:

The dahlia plants we bought from you arrived promptly and is very fine stock..... for my own use I would like to make you the following offer: ..... If you will get this up for me in good stock, as good as this we just got, I surely will turn some business to you in the future.—
ATLANTA, GEORGIA.
